Collection Description

The Bronxville History Center holds a small collection of artifacts most of which relate to the history of the Village of Bronxville. These include twenty-eight works of art by Bronxville artists or about Bronxville subjects; three samplers made by members of the Alexander Masterton family (1832-1855); four knives made by J. Ward & Co. (c. 1860s and later); two electrical control devices made by the Ward Leonard Electric Company (c. 1900-1910) several Bronxville merchant give-away items; three flags, a corporate seal, and a few other items from the records of the Leonard Morange Post 464, American Legion; ten items from the Hotel Gramatan—a banner, tablecloth, blanket, carpet swatch, ash trays, a knife, spoon, directional sign, and Japanese lantern; three Gramatan Springs bottles; five Village of Bronxville commemorative items; five hats—three belonging to a Bronxville man killed in Vietnam, one possibly owned by the Kraft family, and a policeman's hat; a piece of Tuckahoe marble; a cane belonging to Amie Dusenberry; and the historic marker regarding Chief Gramatan and the donation of Indian land that was fixed to the Sunset Hill retaining wall from 1936 to 2019.

Folders containing information about the artifacts in this collection are arranged in a Numerical File, which lists each artifact by number. The same listings for the artifacts as are included in the Numerical File are also arranged in a Name and Subject File, which puts in bold lettering the element in the artifact listing which is alphabetized. This Name and Subject File listing includes photographs of the artifacts.
